POLO TEAMS PUTTING ON LAST TOUCHES

Talked-of Practise Game Between Army and Oahu Not to Be Played

A practise game between Oahu poloists and the Army team, that is now established at Moanalua, was talked of for this afternoon, but yesterday it was decided to call it off and to postpone any meeting between the two teams until the inter-island championships next week. Not only would it rob the tournament of interest to bring the two teams together beforehand but it would be taking a risk with the ponies and this would offset any advantage that might be gained by the additional practise.

Several of the Oahu players were out Saturday for a quiet work-out and it is probable that there will be another one next Wednesday. The Army, which plays Saturday against Maui, may indulge in a practise game today, several extra men coming down from Schofield to form the opposition.

The Army string, in charge of Lieut. Beard, came down from Schofield Saturday morning and are stabled at Moanalua near the polo field. The players are also in camp at Moanalua, where they can be right on the scene of operations. The team is undoubtedly the best polo combination that the service has put in the field for any inter-island event and it is sure to make a creditable showing, although the form forecasters do not go so far as to predict that it will be able to defeat either Maui or Oahu.

The first game of the big tournament is scheduled for next Saturday, when Maui and Oahu meet. Maui is very dangerous this year and if David Fleming is able to take the saddle, the locals will have their work cut out to hold the Valley Island four, which is better mounted than ever before. Maui has the edge on Oahu this year in the pony line.

Over on Maui they are very optimistic over the chances of their team. The Maui News of recent date prints the following polo note:

The first big polo match of the season will take place in Honolulu next Saturday afternoon, July 24, when the Maui team will meet the Oahu players. Although the Maui aggregation will also play one of the Army teams on Tuesday, July 27, the Oahu-Maui game is of course the big event.

At the present time the outlook for Maui is bright, although Oahu is a good deal stronger than she was last year, through having Walter Dillingham back in the game. Maui won every game played last season, with one exception, and the loss of this was due to an accident to Fleming during the game. Oahu also lost to Maui in the great game played at Sunnyside some weeks ago.

The line-up for next Saturday's game will be the same as heretofore, with the exception that Sam Baldwin will play in Harold Rice's place. Arthur Collins, No. 1; Sam Baldwin, No. 2; Frank F. Baldwin, No. 3; and Dave Fleming, No. 4. There is just a possibility that Fleming may be unable to play, as he has not been well, but he hopes to be in condition by the time of the game.

Maui's Sea May Accommodate. Negotiations are under way for having the Maui Sea from Honolulu, held next Saturday, until after the game, instead of sailing at 3 o'clock as ordinarily. If this is effected it is likely that quite a large crowd of Maui enthusiasts will go down to see the game. Announcement of this will be made in due time in the Daily Wire.

Will Ride Carry the News. For the first time in several seasons Carry the News, Dr. Baldwin's famous polo pony, will be seen in Honolulu. He will be ridden by Frank Baldwin during the Oahu-Maui game.

During the matches, Collins will be mounted on Boy Blue, Minor Bird, Little Arthur, Billy Lucas, Prince and Hanaele. Sam Baldwin will ride Bud, Joe, Kola, Gracie, Mutt, Billy and Easter Tide. Jr. Frank Baldwin will use Silver Tall, Bees Wings, Sunline, Dandy and the famous Carry the News. Fleming will have Joe, Jet, Ponomie, Governor and Parlor Maid.

FIRST AND 25TH REGIMENTS DEFEAT ALL-ARMY VISITORS

1st Infantry 7, All-Army 6.
25th Infantry 8, All-Army 0.

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, July 19. The week-end visit of the All-Army team to Schofield Barracks proved disastrous in that they were defeated by the local teams both on Saturday and Sunday afternoon. The 1st Infantry team on Saturday just nosed out their victory by a single run, whereas on the following day the 25th Infantry administered a shut-out to make up for their 4 to 2 defeat at the hands of the town team a week ago. The visiting players were guests of the 1st Infantry and 1st Field Artillery Saturday night, and were treated to the few pleasures which Schofield Barracks affords. They are ready to come out to play again at the big post whenever they have the opportunity. Lawson to the Rescue.

The 1st Infantry found Crumpler an easy proposition, and in the first four innings chalked up six runs. Lawson relieved him in the fifth, but the damage was done though one more run was scored by the 1st Infantry, when Gallagher connected for a clean home run in the seventh. The visitors strove manfully to overcome the lead, and in the eighth almost succeeded in tying the score. This was the 1st Infantry's bad inning, which eventually brought Sadler to the pitcher's mound to save the game.

York pitched an excellent game for the Castner team. In seven innings he struck out 10 batsmen and allowed but three hits. At the beginning of the eighth he gave Mangum his base on balls, the first man he had passed during the game. When Mangum took second on a passed ball York was relieved for some unaccountable reason, and much to the surprise of all. McCrea was sent into the box. McCrea's service was short, for only three batsmen faced him. When Hundley hit for three bases, Lieut. Sadler decided to take the twirling in hand himself. Hundley, the first man to face him, connected for a clean single and scored Hundley. Van Dyke hit into a double and ended the inning. Signs of relief could be heard all along the 1st Infantry stands as their team came in to the players' bench after this trying inning.

The fielding was a little ragged on both sides. Heaton and Gallagher were the star performers for the home team, though it should be mentioned that Buckland drove three singles all to the same spot over second base in four times at bat. Hundley of the All-Army aggregation gets credit for a home run and a three-bagger as well as for some very clever fielding, which was slightly marred by a wild throw in the first inning.

25th Takes Revenge. Lawson had either overworked himself in the game Saturday or else he had lost his spell over the 25th Infantry batsmen, for they had little mercy upon him in the game yesterday. However, poor support was primarily responsible for the flow of runs that came over the plate in the eighth inning, four out of the five errors being committed in this frame.

Lyman started the game with a single to right, but was nipped at third when he tried to take two bases on Mangum's grounder to short. Dumshot was out, Fagan to Willis. Triple play by All-Army.

In the second half of the first inning Woods slipped to left and advanced on Cullens' bunt. Crafton lifted the ball on right field. Van Dyke made a difficult catch, doubled Cullens at first, and Woods was caught before he could get back to second, completing a triple play.

In the second inning a double by Swinton, followed by a single by Rogan and a fly dropped in left field by Johnson, netted the 25th Infantry two runs. An earned run was scored in the fifth, when Rogan, having doubled, scored on a safety by Fagan.

In the eighth the All-Army team went to pieces and threw the ball all over the field. Three wild heaves, a passed ball, a dropped fly and four singles were among the contributing causes which resulted in five runs being scored by the home team.

Gaulther, second baseman on the field artillery team, and formerly on the Coast Defense team, played in both games with the All-Army team, and in yesterday's game made two out of the five hits allowed by J. Johnson.

Johnson pitched an excellent game and kept the five hits of the visitors well scattered. Rogan and Fagan in the infield both took six chances without an error. Gollah at short did not fare so well, but made some very pretty plays.

EXPERIMENTS WITH
RICE NEAR REDDING

(By Associated Press.)
REDDING, Cal.—An experiment in rice culture is being prosecuted by a Shasta county farmer with every evidence of a fruitful ending. Harry White of Clear creek is the rancher who is emulating the ways of the Butte county rice grower. He has under cultivation at the present time two acres, which he says is the equal of any in the Sacramento valley as far as prospects are concerned for a good crop. Should future developments prove successful many more acres will be planted next season by White.

SCHOFIELD GOLF PLAYERS HAVE A LONG LEAD NOW

Nothing But Golfing Miracle Can Save Town Service Team

Honolulu service golfers are on the short end of the score in the third and final match with the Schofield Barracks club swingers. Three matches still remain to be played, and should the town representatives take the total possible points the score would be a tie, 19 to 19. This contingency is extremely unlikely, and nothing short of the golfing miracle can stop the Lihalehua men now.

For the final match in the team play seven games were scheduled at Schofield Barracks and seven at the Oahu Country Club. The Honolulu team badly at Schofield, only one player being returned a winner. One match was played last Friday and two yesterday, the balance being decided Saturday afternoon. The game between Col. Campbell and Lieut. Robertson was decided yesterday morning in a driving rain that would have discouraged anyone but a golfer. The dains and ditches ran like rivers, and at times the rain shut off the hole like a curtain.

Owing to the fact that several of the players are in the field with the second battalion of the 24 Infantry, the three remaining matches will not be played until Saturday, July 31.

SOME CHRISTIAN FORTITUDE WAS SHOWN IN GAME

CHURCH LEAGUE.
W. L. Pct.
St. Andrew's 2 0 1000
Christian 1 1 500
Methodist 0 1 000
Central Union 0 1 000

In the games hall of the Y. M. C. A. the St. Andrew's indoor baseball team took a firm grip on first place by defeating the Christian team 27 to 13. The game was one-sided throughout, but was interesting from start to finish because of the fact that Benny, the Christian captain, kept his men on their toes and put loads of pep into their game.

Both sides made a flock of errors and at times it seemed that their mental carburators had stopped working entirely. As an example, in the fourth inning St. Andrew's at bat and three on bases with two down, the catcher, Auerback, missed the third strike and then missed first with a wild throw by 10 feet, with the runners flying around the bases. The second baseman heaved the ball to third and the catcher began, while standing on the plate, to explain to an "innocent bystander" that the ball should have been thrown to him and not to third. About this time the runner, who had reached third, got his second wind and started for the plate amid the howls of the rest of the team, whereupon the catcher quit discoursing and turned around just in time to stop the ball with his ear, and another run came in.

In the sixth, the pitcher failing to observe that time had been called, put over a beautiful strike that no one was expecting, but which the catcher stopped this time with his left eye. In all the Christian catcher most certainly received anything but Christian treatment, and as if to add insult to injury, in the eighth, a foul tip hit him in the bread basket, which brought forth an awful moan, much to the delight of one of his enemies, who was enjoying the performance from the side lines. This seemed more than even a Christian catcher could bear, and when he threw the next ball wild to the pitcher and his young enemy squawked from sheer joy, he started for the sidelines to interview his friend. But the throw in from second caught him in his Adam's apple and while the pitcher and first-baseman was once more rendering first aid to the injured, two more runs came in. Thirteen of the Christians struck out and 15 of the St. Andrew's. Leo de Roo led the St. Andrew's at bat and Benny led the Christians with the stick.

The next game in the league will be played tomorrow night in the Y. M. C. A. games hall, starting promptly at

Hawaii Swimmers in Second Place When Points Are Totaled

Hawaii failed to carry off first honors at the exposition swimming meet, but the local team finished such a good second, with so many brilliant individual successes to the credit of the members that the speed swimmers from the mid-Pacific may be fairly said to have made the best showing at the meet.

The final score of the meet was Central Association 34, Hawaii 23, Pacific Athletic Association 25, North-western Association 8, Middle Atlantic Association 3, Metropolitan Association 1.

The 300-yard relay, four men swimming 75 yards each, was the deciding feature of the meet, so far as Hawaii was concerned. Could the locals have captured this event they would have gone into first place and left the Central Association, which is composed of several of the strongest middle western clubs, in second place.

Harold Krueger, Clarence Lane, George Cunha and Duke Kahanamoku represented Hawaii in the relay, but they could not outstroke the veteran combination of the Illinois Athletic Association, composed of William Vossberg, Perry McGilivray, Arthur Raithel and Harry Hehner. However, to turn the trick the Illinois men had to set up a new world's record, covering the distance in 2:43 1-5. The old record, held by the same team, was 2:44 4-5.

Duke Kahanamoku again distinguished himself by winning the 100 yards in new world's record time for a tank with one turn, 54 2-5. He was third in the 200-yard breast stroke, which is a comparatively new event for the Hawaiian swimmer, and one in which he has never specialized.

Following are the results of last Saturday, the second day of the meet: 100-yard dash—Kahanamoku, first; Arthur Raithel, second. Time, 0:54 2-5. New world's record for indoors one turn.

200-yard breast stroke—McDermott, first; E. J. Heraty, second; Kahanamoku, third. Time, 2:49 2-5. New world's record.

500-yard swim—Langers, first; McGilivray, second; Wheatley, third. Time, 6:12 4-5.

300-yard relay (four men each swimming 75 yards)—Illinois Athletic Club, first; Hawaii, second. Time, 2:43 1-5. New world's record.

150-yard back stroke—Harry Hehner, established world's record. Time, 1:53 3-5.

220-yard swim, women's—Frances Cowells, first; E. G. Daly, second; Mabel Goodman, third. Time, 3:20. New American record.

ATHLETES SMASH MARKS IN A. A. U. OUTDOOR MEETING

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] CHICAGO, Ill., July 18.—At the annual A. A. U. outdoor track and field championships, held here yesterday afternoon, four national records were broken.

Binga Diamond (colored), representing the University of Chicago, ran the 440 yards in 0:43 3-5, beating J. E. Meredith's record.

Artie Mucks, University of Wisconsin, threw the discus 144 feet, 3 inches, breaking the previous record of 137 feet, 5 in, held by E. J. Muller.

Joseph Ray, Illinois Athletic Club, ran the one mile in 4:16 2-5, breaking the previous record of 4:25 1-5 held by A. R. Kiviat.

Solomon Butler (colored), hung up a new record at the broad jump with 24 feet 2 inches, breaking the previous record of 23 feet 2 inches held by Platt Adams.

GERMANY FORESEES LONG WAR.

(By Associated Press.) AMSTERDAM, Holland.—A considerable part of Germany's efforts are now being concentrated upon preparations for the campaign next winter. Women in large numbers are being employed in sewing new furs for the army, while those used last winter, which were carefully collected, are being renovated and repaired at the supply depots.

In connection with this work, the Vorwärts complains that "starvation wages" are being paid to many of the employed women. Needlewomen working 12 to 14 hours daily can only earn about 30 cents a day, says the newspaper, owing to the contract system which is employed.

CAMBRIDGE IS "HARD UP"

The report opposes any application to the government for relief, and recommends the opening of an emergency fund through which graduates may contribute to the expected deficit.

TRAVELERS FIND THE TRAVELING HARDER IN THE EASTERN STATES

Not So Easy to Dispose of College Teams as in the Wild and Woolly West—Being a Road Club Has Its Disadvantages When Train Connections Make It Necessary to Stay Up All Night and Play Ball the Next Day Against High-Class Men

ORANGE, Mass., July 1.—The travelers are going nicely, winning a fair percentage of games, but losing more frequently to the eastern college teams than to those of the west. The answer to this is easy—they play better baseball. Take, for example, the Brown University team, which sent Crowell and Crane, pitchers, and Babington, third base, to the big league this year.

Following is a short account of some of our most recent games: We were scheduled to play Bates College at Lewiston, Maine, and found the train connections between Hanover, N. H., and Lewiston, Maine, are very bad. We had to leave our hotel at 3:30 a. m. to catch a train, and made about five transfers before we arrived at our destination at about 12:30 p. m. Though we lost to Bates College it was fairly excusable.

Bates College defeated us by a score of 14 to 6. The score might lead you to think that the game was a little one-sided, but I wish to say that we hit the ball almost as hard as they did, though we were fatigued. We had many chances to score through a number of consecutive hits, but our poor tired legs couldn't carry us any further.

Ako, though he was not pitching in his usual form, was a star at bat. He made three hits out of three chances at the plate. Denny Mark knocked out a circuit drive in the ninth inning with one man on base.

Both sides played errorless ball:

University of Maine.
From Lewiston we rode to Bangor, Maine. We easily defeated the Maine University team by a score of 8 to 3. We started off the first inning by scoring two tallies while Maine got one. Through timely hitting in the fourth,

ALL FOUR POST TEAMS WILL GET AN EVEN BREAK

Athletic Council at Schofield Desires to See All Regiments Get Outside Games

It is probable that this season will see four teams at Schofield Barracks playing the teams of the Oahu League and others that may visit the big army post. Heretofore the 25th Infantry team has been considered the representative team of Schofield and has played practically all the games with outside teams.

Last season it was agreed by the committee of baseball representatives that the regimental team which stood highest in the Army League series should represent the post in all games with visiting teams. As a consequence the teams of the 1st Field Artillery, 4th Cavalry and 1st Infantry were practically disbanded and the only team continuing to play after the Army League series was that of the 25th Infantry, which then had a monopoly on baseball.

The representatives of the other three regiments are anxious to prevent the recurrence of such a condition, which allows only one-fourth of the garrison to be represented in baseball contests.

It is reported that the committee has unanimously agreed that this season the scheduling of games with visiting teams will be in the hands of the committee and that the four regimental teams at Schofield will take turns in playing these games.

Other questions have been taken under consideration by the baseball committee with the view of placing all four teams on an equal footing in regard to time available for practise, opportunities for practise on the post diamond and the monetary remuneration of players by means of funds obtained by charging admission to games. Heretofore the players of the 25th Infantry team have been excused from more duties than those of the other regiments and have had advantages in other ways that have made it difficult for the other regiments to organize teams that could compete with the 25th with any degree of success.

The committee of baseball representatives will hold their final meeting on Tuesday afternoon, when recommendations will be submitted to the commanding general of the post, which will probably include a baseball program for the season, with rules which will govern the teams participating and the use of the new baseball park.

fifth and seventh innings, we scored four more runs. We managed to get two in the sixth through the short-stop's errors. Maine started a rally in the seventh by sending two more runs across the plate, and as their hitting failed to produce any more men on the bases, they also failed to score. The game was witnessed by a fairly large crowd, who applauded the different good plays throughout the entire game.

Brown at Providence.
We arrived at Providence at about 7 o'clock a. m., and had time enough to see a little of the place, our game being called at 3:30 p. m. We were defeated by Brown University's fast aggregation of real ball players. The score was 4 to 0. Crane, who is now with the Boston Braves, pitched against us while big Apau opposed him. Both pitched a masterly game. Only six hits were made off Crane's deliveries while Brown netted two more than us. The fourth inning was their hitting rally; they made one-half of their eight hits in this inning and scored two runs. Lai Tin and Yap figured in the hitting for the Chinese, getting two hits apiece out of four chances. Ayan and Mark each got one, and that was all the hitting for the day.

An immense crowd witnessed this game and fully enjoyed the afternoon spent there. Previous to the game, while Brown's team was having field practise, we gave an exhibition of juggling the ball. The boys, Ayan, Kullali, Lai Tin and Chinito, did it so well that they won the applause of the crowd. Through this medium we won about 50 per cent of the crowd to our support.
